EUSTON SQUARE TREES
THE LAST STAND

PRESS NOTICE
Over 50 artists are set to descend on the Euston Square Gardens next Tuesday 26 and Wednesday 27 June to take part in two-day on-site art making protest at the imminent destruction of historic Euston Square Gardens, a London park planted in 1750. HS2 are in the process of cutting down the trees to make way for a temporary taxi rank.

The artists will include
Dan Llywleyn Hall, Martin Rowson (Guardian Cartoonist) & Adam Dant (Parliament Election Artist) amongst many students and local artists who will all paint and draw the trees and gardens to raise awareness of the imminent plight of this green oasis on the most polluted road in the UK.

If you would like to film, photograph or interview please attend the PRESS CALL on Wednesday 27th June from 3.30pm on the western flank of the gardens immediately outside Euston station. The work will then go to the exhibition at the Crypt Gallery
